

The Art of Manifestation

Written by Esther Yasmin , August/September 2011

We believe what we perceive exists.
In truth, there may be none of this.
We choose from our sense
of what is possible.
Our concept of reality is what is most probable.
Our imagination extends
As we become more aware.
And our concept of what could be there grows in it's light.
The more light that shines,
the more beauty is seen.
The more able we are to alter this dream,
into a dream of bliss.
Our desire is important in this,
and so is a good willed heart,
which directs the art
of manifestation.
Of becoming the creators
as well as the creation.
